

Family Puppet Shows Sunday April 27, 2008

Wonder Tales from Africa 2:00 p.m.

Wool Horse Puppets by Cheri Munske

Wool Horse Puppet Theater brings the magic and wonder of Africa to audiences of all ages in two tales,

"Akimba and the Magic Cow" and
"The King of Togo Togo".

Simple marionettes on a colorful stage,
along with live music and storytelling,
let the rhythms of nature come alive
in these delightful tales.

Little Bugs, Big World 4:30 p.m.

Dragon Theater Puppets by Jason Ropp

Catch the reading bug before he gets away!

Mr. S, the sneaky spider, wants to catch that little reading bug! A little Lady bug meets a book worm and finds out about the big world out there. So they decide to travel the world and learn new languages. They visit bugs from all sorts of countries and find out that it's not such a big world after all.

But will they get caught in the webs of deceit woven by that spider Mr. S?

Or will the adventure lead them back home safely?

Artichoke Music 3130 S.E. Hawthorne Blvd, Portland, OR

Call: (503) 232-8845 to reserve your seats

Visit: www.cappuppets.org/cabaret2008.htm for more details
$15.00 per person per show - Pay at the door with Cash or Check
A workshop between shows for people who buy tickets to both
A Fundraiser for The Columbia Association of Puppeteers